CEO UPDATE

From the Desk of the CEO: A Green Leap Forward

On Thursday, February 22nd, a momentous initiative unfolded as the District Council, in collaboration with the Streaky Bay Children's Centre, undertook the joint planting of over 700 trees and plants at Pioneers Park and Wells Street. This collective effort is more than a mere step; it's a giant leap towards realizing our vision of fostering a greener Streaky Bay.

Our journey to this significant milestone began last year when we initiated a thorough review of our tree policy and plantings across Streaky Bay. This was a focal point for me, as when I arrived at Council, I received a lot of community feedback expressing concerns about dying trees throughout the township. Various reasons were attributed, including overspray of chemicals, diseases, and other factors. In response to this feedback, we undertook extensive testing and arborist assessments and this work revealed that previous years of drought had stressed the trees, and wetter conditions, coupled with borers, led to their demise. In response, we worked with an arborist and undertook community consultation, to revise our tree selection based on climate suitability and revamped our tree management plan and policy.

Recognizing trees as valuable assets, we've taken crucial steps to manage them effectively. Comprehensive tree assessments now form the basis of an inventory detailing species, age, size, and location. We've implemented a robust data management system to store and update information on each tree, documenting maintenance activities, inspections, and interventions.

Armed with this information, we can now make informed decisions about suitable tree species for specific locations, ensuring compatibility with soil types and climate conditions. Adopting a lifecycle management approach, we consider each stage of a tree's life from planting to maturity, and we're planning tree replacements to maintain a sustainable and diverse tree canopy. I admit this is an area we have previously let the community down as we should have various different tree sizes and ages in each specific area. Although it's encouraging to see Wells St by the caravan park all planted out with new trees. Really, we needed to stagger these plantings over a 20-year period.

Our journey continues, and we acknowledge the challenges ahead in planting and managing trees across the entire district. Ensuring adequate water supply for trees is a priority, and we are looking at ways to incorporate passive irrigation into our stormwater infrastructure and developing mechanisms to ensure we can water our newly planted trees on a regular basis and existing trees in times of drought.

The 22nd of February marked a pivotal date in our ongoing efforts to enhance our urban landscape, introducing greenery to create a healthier and more aesthetically pleasing environment for everyone. My heartfelt gratitude goes out to all participants and volunteers who contributed to the tree planting day. Together, let's witness our community blossom into an even more greener and inviting haven.

Sincerely,

Damian Carter
CEO, District Council of Streaky Bay

EP LANDSCAPE BOARD

EP Landscape Board staff have been monitoring Fairy Tern Colonies at key sites over summer on the western EP as part of a new BirdLife Australia project funded by the Australian Government to improve the conservation outlook of Fairy Terns in south-eastern Australia. Surveys have been conducted from Clare Bay in the Far West to Lake Newland in the south, with Fairy Tern colonies recorded nesting at 4 separate sites.

The Board also supported Deb Furbank, Fairy Tern Project Coordinator Birdlife Australia, present a Fairy Tern workshop for staff and community members in Streaky Bay on the 23rd February. The workshop began with a field session at Seagull Lake where participants scoped not only Fairy Terns, but 2 Fairy Tern chicks approx. 18-20 days old. This was followed by a theory session based on morphology, breeding and status listing with over 20 people in attendance.

Rounding out the survey work, at the end of February, EP Landscape Board Officers, NP&WS staff, volunteers and rangers from the Far West Coast Aboriginal Corporation undertook annual Migratory Shorebird surveys as part of the annual Birdlife Australia Count. The counts covered areas from St. Peters Island in the far west to Lake Newland in the South with surprising numbers of Eastern Curlews, Hooded Plovers and Fairy Terns on the Island.

LANDSCAPE SOUTH AUSTRALIA EYRE PENINSULA

Over summer EP Landscape Board Officers also undertook weed control spraying summer grasses and controlling African Boxthorn along roadsides. Whilst out and about Opuntia Cacti (known as Prickly Pair) was spotted growing in gardens. Prickly pear, are succulent, shrubby perennials with green, oval-shaped pads dotted with spines, which are light or dark green depending on the health of the plant, with the base of plants consisting of single or multiple stems. Plants can grow from 1–2m tall and have variously coloured flowers that ultimately turn into red-fleshy fruits. These flowers and fruits grow on top of the pads that make up the plant.

Opuntia cacti plants should be controlled as they can spread very easily. The ripe fruit is an attractive meal to birds and foxes, which, after consuming, the animal then deposits the seeds through their faeces. New plants can easily grow from pads that have been knocked off existing plants; so this species can spread very quickly into surrounding areas including pastoral regions, rangelands and native vegetation. Plants that are growing in front yards or overhanging fences also have the opportunity to be extremely invasive. Parts of the plant may be knocked into lanes or storm water drains and transported to new locations.

All Opuntia cacti excluding spineless Opuntia ficus-indica and Tephrocactus spp. prickly pear are declared under the Landscape South Australia Act 2019. This means it is illegal to transport or sell these plants and all property owners have a responsibility to control Opuntia cacti on their property. Residents who rent their properties also have obligations to control declared species.

If you think you have Opuntia cacti on your property, Eyre Peninsula Landscape Board staff can provide advice on control and management. Please contact us on 8688 3200.

INDOOR BOWLS

S.B.I.B.C. president Bev White delivered the clubs get well message on 7/2 to member Jim Clarke.

At the time Jim was a patient in the Streaky Bay hospital. He was later flown to Adelaide and returned to Streaky Bay on 23/2. All Jim's bowling companions wish him well and hope his return to playing will be very soon.

On Valentines Day 14/2, there were 23 players, including 3 visitors, bowling. During the afternoon tea break everyone became quite excited when many, many lucky numbers were drawn from the "hat". Six door prizes,all donated, went to lucky ticket number holders = Bev O., Gay, Shirley, Pat, Roger, Connie. Also there was the usual card and spot prizes, this time going to Pat and Joylene.

Two new members have been welcomed to the club, Thippawan McLean and Keith Barker, both first played as visitors.

Every Wednesday afternoon random teams are drawn to play 3 games. Sometimes one team alone will record 3 wins, as happened on 14/2 and again on 21/2, but on 7/2 the afternoon games ended with no 3 game winner and 4 of the 6 teams on 2 wins and a loss. Individual team total shots were 27, 26, 25, 23 demonstrating just how close games can finish.

Winning teams were=
Feb. 7 = Bev O., Connie, Jim P.
Feb.14= Roger, Julie, Joylene
Feb.21= Raylene,Roger, Joylene
Feb.28= Bev O., Darryl, Roz

THE STREAKERS OF POETRY BAY

Just before our performance of “The Streakers of Poetry Bay” at the Institute on Feb 22nd, Scott37, Jesse Giles, Shea-Lea Hackett and I gathered to offer each other support and good luck in those nervous moments before ‘curtain up.’ It mattered not that over fifty years prior, before any of these fellow performers were even born, I had done something similar six nights a week touring with the Scottish Ballet in the UK. What a great leveller is live performing for a paying audience. Those butterflies always flutter.

In putting on a poetry -based show as a new resident in Streaky Bay with colleagues I’d only known for a matter of months, I had no idea what to expect. Collaborating with Scott and Jesse has been stimulating and great fun, but with an untested template none of us could know how it would work. When people started gathering and enjoying the wonders of Ozzie wine and the magic of Jesse’s music, I felt increasingly optimistic, and then delighted that we ended up with an audience close to fifty. Later I worked out that with that proportion of the available population in Adelaide, we could have a filled the Festival Centre Playhouse 60 times!

As an old pro, by the end of the performance I was acutely aware of the imperfections that live performances, especially premieres, can be heir to. But I was also aware that we had enjoyed communion with an engaged and positive audience.

I first became stage-struck in my teens when the sound of applause hit me like a drug, and it has never lost its appeal. What I subsequently learned was that one can always tell if an audience is enthusiastic, polite, reluctant, or downright antagonistic.

THE STREAKERS OF POETRY BAY

I’ll never forget the one occasion when my work was booed! But I now have an equally memorable moment thanks to Chris Boylan, who spontaneously stood and voiced her appreciation before the applause had died. As a board member of the Hotel who had afforded us a grant, she assured everyone that it was a worthwhile investment, and that seemed to echo the general feeling around her. That grant gave us enormous encouragement in the early days of creating the show.

One of the most telling tests of any performance is whether the audience is left wanting more. Judging by comments and Facebook posts it seems we achieved that. People in the country live no less busy lives than city folk, so not everyone who wants to can gather on the same night. We ‘Streakers’ will consider our options - we have no shortage of material. But I am also conscious of the old adage ‘you are only as good as your last performance’, so the pressure will be on.

One of the most gratifying aspects of putting on this show for me was finding two very talented students, Shea-Lea Hackett and Rehan Ghale Gurung, who with the projections and art-work respectively, played an obvious and vital role in the ‘look’ of the performance. Of course, this required the total support and cooperation of the Streaky Bay Area School for which I am deeply grateful. And I must acknowledge staff at the Visitor Information Centre who were always friendly and helpful, in particular Cydney Alfred, who facilitated fliers, posters and programs. Keep your eyes open for more Streakers in Streaky Bay...

MENS SHED

Once again our numbers have been up, which is pleasing to see. The shed members wish Jim Clarke a speedy recovery after his hospitalisations. Get well soon Jim.

As was reported in last months edition we have some projects on the go and have completed others. Our blanket box is coming along nicely thanks to John Lelifeld and Jim Petty. We have finished two mud kitchens ready for Busy Kids. We were asked to paint them in bright colours which we have.

If anyone is looking for a mud kitchen we do have one in stock that was sold but the people changed their mind. If interested in it please contact the men's shed during opening hours (9.00am to 3.30pm) on Fridays.

We were asked to make another planter box for the hotel. This has been completed. We have made a bird feeding tray, with another one in progress.

Members are working on some other projects like a writing desk, a large table, some steps that fold into a seat, an old chair that needed strengthening and making some wooden toilet roll holders.

The Men's Shed is still collecting old spectacles for recycling. These can be dropped off at the men's shed on Fridays or at the Bay Community Op shop during opening hours.

STREAKY BAY PROBUS

Streaky Bay Probus was well supported this month with our meeting having 23 members and 2 visitors attending. Our guest speaker was Jayne Holland.

Jayne has worked remotely in Streaky Bay as a Coordinator, Governance, Quality and Reporting for Lifeline Broken Hill Country to Coast since July 2021. As one of the members of Lifeline Australia the organisation provides early intervention suicide prevention services and supports for communities across a large footprint in regional South Australia and the Far West New South Wales. With 29 staff and 187 committed volunteers across 9 x recycle retail outlets and 4 x Connect Centres the organisation has a Vision of "An Australia free of Suicide."

This started a big conversation between members and Jayne about our own town's mental health needs. We are privileged to have so many interesting people in our town who speak to us monthly and tell their stories. Thank you Jayne for sharing your story and highlighting the role and need of Lifeline.

On the 1st of March some of our members met for our Happy chat at the Museum for an informative morning, looking at all the impressive work volunteers have done there, followed by a lovely chat at Drift.

XXXX GOLD & STREAKY BAY COMMUNITY HOTEL STREAKY BAY CUP

SATURDAY 23 MARCH 2024

From the coastline to the finish line the Streaky Bay Cup has something for everyone.

The excitement is building for the 2024 XXXX GOLD & Streaky Bay Community Hotel Cup to be held on Saturday 23rd March at the Streaky Bay racecourse.

The Streaky Bay Cup encompasses the spirit of Country Racing with bringing the community together in a friendly and relaxed atmosphere with everything they need to have a great day at the races.

The Cup Carnival will kick off on the Friday night at the Streaky Bay Hotel with happy hour in the front bar with raffles followed by a Calcutta and dinner with special guest speaker in the main dining room. The dinner event is sold out, but all are welcome to attend the Calcutta from 8.30pm.

On the Saturday our race day program offers 6 races, the punters will be able to access on course bookmakers and TAB.

For the fashion enthusiast the Fashion at the Races Competition will be a real draw card for the ladies and gents and each year we are seeing a high standard of entrants. We expect to see this again in 2024.

New for 2024 is the Burge Cage Marquee sponsored by Grant Burge Wines this will be a great place on race day with finger food and drinks and entry included. Tickets for the new marquee are $124.00p/p. Bookings for the marquee are through www.moshtix.com.au and tickets are limited.

The popular marquee at the races the Lincoln Estate Trackside Marquee will be a returning, but tickets are all sold out.

As always, we encourage families to attend as there are plenty of activities to keep the children amused. This year the children's entertainment will be $10.00per child.

The passes for the children can be purchased on the day from the secretary's office and the children will need to be present with you so they can receive their arm bands.

After the cup punters can head to the Streaky Bay Hotel, they will be again offering meals for the racegoers who don't want the day to end. A great way to finish off your race day is to sit with friends on the deck overlooking the jetty and majestic waters of Streaky Bay.

Thank you again to all the Sponsors especially our Major Sponsors for the 2024 Cup: XXXX GOLD, Letcher Moroney Chartered Accountants, Lincoln Estate Wines, McEvoy Transport, Thomas Foods International, The Streaky Bay Community Hotel Motel and Chris Georgiou Building.

Book your tickets now at www.moshtix.com.au, booking fees apply.

To keep up to date with all the Cup details visit us on Facebook @streakybayracingclub.

ELSIE CONFERENCE

CELEBRATING 50 YEARS OF WOMEN'S REFUGES IN AUSTRALIA

15-16 March 2024 • University of Technology Sydney

elsieconference.com.au elsie@uts.edu.au

I am writing to ask for your help to spread the word to your member councils about a special event to be hosted by the University of Technology (UTS) Sydney.

The Elsie Conference marks the 50th anniversary of the establishment of Elsie Women's Refuge in the inner Sydney suburb of Glebe, and the start of the women's refuge movement in Australia.

On 15-16 March 2024, the Elsie Conference will delve into the history of refuges and look to the future challenges faced by anyone working in or making policy for the sector.

This historic event we hope, will bring together 300+ refuge and shelter workers, advocates and organisations, researchers and public policymakers and anyone interested in reducing domestic violence. The conference aims to provide a national platform to discuss emerging challenges and the changing face of domestic violence and to reflect on how far the movement has come since its humble beginnings 50 years ago.

More information on the conference, including details of our amazing panelists, can be found at https://www.elsieconference.com.au/

I am reaching out to you because we are particularly keen to have attendees from regional areas given the significance of regional refuges. Your local contacts will be crucial in communicating to the refuge sector. We are also offering a limited number of travel sponsorships and fee waivers, to help increase the accessibility of this conference for those living in regional areas.

Elsie Awards

We will also be presenting 50 'Elsies' at the Conference, which will be awarded to the unsung heroines of the refuge movement—the women who have worked, often in the background, to keep shelters running and save lives. These will be awarded based on nominations and we want to ensure that there is a large number of nominations for women in regional areas.

Nominations are currently open at elsieconference.com.au/awards

Help spread the word!

I would ask that you share the news through the communications platforms you have available eg, social media, via your newsletter, your website.

There is also a full media pack of social media posts, newsletter tiles and posters ready to use at https://www.elsieconference.com.au/spread-the-word.

If you need anything else, or would like more information, please don't hesitate to contact us.

Warm wishes,

Anne Summers AO
